Of Local Interest.

If you can't root for your town move out.

Fly time is on in earnest, and the baldheaded church goer suffereth.

Lancaster has fewer moss-backs than ever before. Isn't that good?

Now we hear the howl, "Too much rain." The people are never satisfied.

$1.50 excursion to Cincinnati Sunday. Many places of amusement open.

The wheat crop will not turn out so badly as anticipated. The rains came just in the nick of time.

The Somerset Journal says the girl with the biggest capacity for ice-cream soda is not the most popular one this summer.

There has been scarcely any hot weather yet. Old Sol will soon turn on the rays, and bring out the loafer to the street corner box or chair.

Catholic services were held in the court house Sunday, conducted by Father Decker, of Nicholasville. There are many members in this locality.

Before buying goods, look at the advertisements in these columns. These men have the right class of goods or they would not be calling your attention to them.

Indications for a splendid crop of blackberries were never better. As a result, those mothers of "jam boys" are delighted to know that they will have plenty of jam for their darlings to cry for.

Negro porters crowd around the car steps so thickly that passengers can scarcely get by. This is not right, and it is an outrage that it is not stopped. There is not another town in the state that permits it.

Gaines Bros., agents for the celebrated J. C. Case threshing machines, sold last week to Leon Austin a most complete and up-to-date rig for $2,000. Mr. Austin is better equipped and better prepared than ever before, having purchased such a threshing outfit.

Sale of Valuable Property.

W. J. Parton sold his residence and 45 acres of land on Danville avenue, to Joseph Hendrickson at $5,400. The premises are well improved.

"Go ask papa," the maiden said. Now, every one knew that papa was dead.

They also knew of the life he had led. Therefore, they knew what was in her head—When "Go ask papa," the maiden said.

—Cynthiana Democrat.

No Haste in Garrard.

The State Board of Equalization, which has been raising the assessment in most of the counties, refused to make any change in the work done by our Assessor, Mr. Thos. Austin, and his capable deputies.

The Same in Many Towns.

It is said a man who squeezes a dollar never squeezes his wife. A glance at our subscription book leads us to believe that many women in this section are not having their ribs cracked. Come in and settle and show that all is right at home.—Roosville Independent.

Potatoes High.

The price of potatoes is advancing rapidly. In the past few days the price in wholesale lots has gone from 55 cents to 70 cents and are scarce at that price. New potatoes are quoted by the produce dealers at $5 per barrel but there is not a very big demand at that price.

Once Resided Here.

After an absence of nearly twenty years, Mr. James Arnold, of Kansas City, was here last week mingling with old friends and acquaintances. He is interested with the building of a new railroad, the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient, and has been quite successful in soliciting stock therein.

Odd Fellows Dine.

The local Odd Fellows lodge had a big supper at the Mason Hotel Thursday evening, which was attended by most of the members of the order. They have recently had their hall papered, painted and carpeted, and it is one of the prettiest in the state. The order is in a flourishing condition in Lancaster.

Pony Up, We Need It.

Statements have been sent to the few persons on our list who think we can live on air. Uncle Sam is not giving away postage stamps this year, we cannot afford to send more statements. When you receive one, it's a pretty good sign that you are expected to fork out, so don't hesitate and wonder why it was sent.

Back to Old Times.

Its the custom in Lancaster, just now, when there is to be a sale, show, or what-not, to hire Col. Bris Bruce, the well-known old darkey, to take a bell and go about town making the announcement. Bruce "tells 'em all about it," and takes great delight there in, after having something to get the dust out of his throat.

Look Out.

The low and detestable practice of putting "High Life" on horses and other animals, has produced trouble, and has endangered human life, by causing runaways and smash ups. Arrests will be made for cruelty to animals, if it is not stopped, as some of our best citizens are determined to have a say in the matter.

Miss Scott Married.

Lancaster friends have received announcement of the marriage of Miss Lucille Price Scott, of Lexington, to Mr. J. Henderson Gallagher, which took place at Lexington, June 4th. Mr. and Mrs. Gallagher will be at home, 201 E. Broadway, Louisville. The bride is well-known here, having resided in this city for some time boarding at the Garrard Hotel. Her many Lancaster friends extend best wishes.

Tuned Many Pianos.

Mr. W. J. Homer after spending some ten days in Lancaster, has returned to his home in Danville. He tuned nearly every piano in Lancaster and Garrard county, and if there is the least complaint of his work, we have yet to hear it. He is a practical man, a piano expert, and those seeking such work should leave orders at this office or write him at Danville, his headquarters.

The Custom Up North.

A disagreement arose between two Ohio merchants some time ago and as a result, they decided to end the matter in a fight to the finish. They planned to start around the block in opposite directions and to open fire when they came in sight on the other side. The start was made but the fight never came off. When last heard from, one was hunting gold in Alaska, and the other picking coffee in Mexico.

Usually the Way.

The ways of the fate are certainly strange as proved by the death of Thomas Lawrence, of Pettis county, Missouri. A year ago he was struck by an express train and picked up 20 yards away uninjured, and a month later he fell twenty feet from a barn roof and was not hurt. Last August he stopped a bolt of lightning and was unharmed. Last week, while on his way to his barn, he stumbled over a six months old puppy, and fell and broke his neck.

Spring Feom.

Bury the croaker out in the woods in a beautiful hole in the ground where the humble bee hums and the wood yacker pecks and the straddle bug straddles around. He is no good to the town; too impractical, stingy and dead, but he wants the whole earth and part of the crust and the stars that shine over his head. Then hustle him off to the woods and bury him deep in the ground he is no good to us here, get him out of the way and make room for the man that is sound.

Population of the Earth.

The population of the earth is about 1,500,000,000. About 900,000,000 worship idols. About 750,000,000 never heard of Christ, and never saw the face of a missionary. There is one preacher in America for about 700 people, while in heathen lands there is one missionary for about 400,000 people. And yet men are wasting time and money, building needless meeting houses, and supporting useless ministers and rival and unscriptural church organizations, which cause skeptics and heathens to disbelieve the gospel instead of seeking and praying and working for that unity for which Christ prayed, "that the world may believe that thou hast sent me."

To Our Subscribers.

We trust you will make due allowance for lack of reading matter in recent issues of The Record. As stated last issue, we are under the weather, and are making all efforts to get back in shape to perform the thousand and one duties in our office. Nothing is more distasteful to us than to have to speak of personal matters in these columns, but you pay your money for the Garrard county news, and when we fail to give it to you, we beg leave to state the reason therefor. We hope to soon be restored, "Sound in mind and members," and to get The Record back "Under the tongue of good report."

Two Fools—And a Pig.

For several months a novel law suit has been in progress at Boone's Fork, Letcher county, between Daniel Bentley and Samuel Bentley, brothers. The case involved covers a small pig, the value of which is not more than $1. Already the men have expended about $100 apiece, and have now taken the case to the Letcher Circuit Court for a hearing. Each has employed legal counsel. Daniel Bentley alleges that the pig, the property of Samuel Bentley, broke into his garden, destroying some vegetables. He put the animal in a small pen to await damages. His brother refused to pay damages. Then the suit began.

A False Report.

Some person, evidently a loafer with nothing else to do, started the report that there was a case of small pox in Lancaster, even going so far as to say what family it was in. We investigated the matter carefully, and soon found the report to be wholly without foundation. The doctors denied the report, and were very justly indignant at the thought of their trying to keep such a thing secret. There may be doctors who would, in order to increase their practice, refuse to warn the people, but such physicians do not live in Lancaster or Garrard county. Our people can rest assured that their interests will be carefully looked after.

Stand by Your Town.

Next to a man's family and business nothing should stand dearer to his heart than the town in which he lives. It is his home. It is the place where he earns his competence and educates his children. If he wants to make it popular, as a thrifty and widely known as possible, he cannot afford to be indifferent to anything which will further these ends. It can be said that a town that is not worthy of the devotion of its citizens in making it widely and generally prosperous is the town which is not worth while to live in at all. If a town is worth anything it is worthy of our greatest energy, whether we merely take our share of the common benefits accruing to the town and community we call home, or risk our all in its commerce.

Must Hasten.

An exchange knew what it was talking about when it published the following: The trade territory of a town is not all dependent upon the distance to neighboring trading points. The territory depends upon the enterprise of the town. If a town does not reach out after trade it will only grow as fast as it is forced to, but if the merchants go after the business in the surrounding country, advertising in every way, and make good every word of their advertising, trade will come from an ever increasing radius and the town will have a reputation for being awake and it will forge to the front. It is the men in every town and not altogether men living within a number of miles from it that makes the town good or bad, for business.

The "Help Question."

It's the question of the hour. "Have you any help?" is heard all around. The folks who are financially able to refrain from labor, are the ones who are hard at work, says the Carlisle Mercury. Those who beg for food and fuel in the winter season are now enjoying their vacation—doing nothing. Paul says "He that will not work shall not eat." A good rock pile for the petty thieves, and the vagrancy law for those who have no visible means of support, would do much to clear the atmosphere. An agreement not to assist or employ during the winter season those who refuse to labor during the "warm spell" carried out for one year would solve the problem for all time. If the white folks are to toll, while negroes and "white trash" live by pilfering, and idleness, the time is not far distant when the strong arm of the law will deal severely with the pilferer and vagrant. The white folks will not long furnish free board to the negroes. The question grows more serious as the days pass.

Bad For Lancaster.

Down at Winchester the other day, we overheard two men talking about the Sunday excursions to Cincinnati. "Yes," said one, "as a rule the order is perfect, but there are a few fellows who come from down at Lancaster who evidently haven't been very far from home. They want to appear as bad 'uns, drink whisky and cuss. Some one will have to slap the taste out of their mouths before long, and they will learn how to behave." We said nothing, but did considerable thinking.

A Hustler.

The Record's good friend, K. F. Postle, has shown wisdom by contracting for an immense amount of space in these columns for another year. He knows that to get trade he must use printer's ink, and plenty of it. He doesn't waste money on every little fool scheme brought around, but puts his dollars where they will count. Merchants make a grave mistake by wasting money on programs, catalogues and other matter that is seldom read. Remember this: a person never sits down to read the home paper until he or she has time to read every line in it, and if you have an ad therein its going to be seen, and its going to be read. Not so with other stuff. Merchants go into other schemes, spend a lot of money and charge it up to "advertising," when it is most anything else but advertising. To succeed in business, you must advertise, and that means you must put your ads where the people will see them.

Seize Our Life.

Lincoln Democrat:—Not long ago the Lancaster Record quoted Dr. J. B. Kinnaird as authority for the statement that in a fight he witnessed between a crow and a big snake the feathered fighter murdered its antagonist in cold blood. While in the Fork neighborhood this week, Mr. J. M. Aldridge, an aged gentleman, said to us: "Just put in the Lincoln Democrat that I saw those two turkey hens yonder kill a big black racer the other day and it was the hottest fight ever witnessed in Garrard county. The snake was trying to catch one of the little turkeys when its mother tackled it. The snake wound itself around the old turkey's body and war was on. The other turkey hen then bounded into the arena and for fifteen or twenty minutes the battle was terrific, but when the smoke and dust cleared away the 6-foot snake was cold in death and the victorious turkey hens and little ones strutted away with a commendable air of victorious pride." Mr. Charles Burdett also saw the above battle.

Kind Words For The Record.

Winchester Democrat:—In this issue Louis Landram, editor of the Lancaster Record, gives his impression of our city. He has been taking the osteopathic treatment, and we are glad to say he is being much benefited. Landram is one of the best men connected with the press of Kentucky, and the success of the Kentucky Press Association is due in a large degree to his indefatigable labors in its behalf. His paper, The Record, is one of our best exchanges, and the people of Lancaster should be proud of their paper and its editor.

A Tribute.

For the first time since our organization, death has claimed one of our number, Mrs. Elizabeth Simpson. We feel deeply this home-going of our Sister, for she was faithful and verily, "She shall be missed for her seat will be empty." In her quite homelike and in the gentle fulfilling of her duties as mother, she left an impress that will never be effaced. "Her children rise up and call her blessed." Next to her home her church was her pride, and its societies her joys. We remember lovingly her work and her faith. Lancaster Auxiliary, C.W.B.M.

Married at Home.

On Wednesday evening June 3rd, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mat Folger, Walter Fayne and Miss Viola Folger, surprised their most intimate friends by being quietly married by the Rev. G. W. Thompson. It was purely a home wedding, no one being invited. To say that the groom has been lucky in winning the hand of such a beautiful young lady for his bride and life companion puts it too mildly. She is possessed of all the graces that go to make the true woman. Mr. Fayne is a young farmer of many sterling qualities, may their life be one of happiness and contentment.

Fourteen Mistakes of Life.

The fourteen mistakes of life are: To set up your own standard of right and wrong, and judge people accordingly; to measure the enjoyment of others by our own; to expect uniformity of opinion in this world; to look for judgment and experience in youth; to endeavor to mould all dispositions alike; to look for perfection in our own actions; to worry ourselves and others with what cannot be remedied; not to yield in immaterial matters not to alleviate all that needs alleviating as far as lies in our power; not to make allowance for the infirmities of others; to consider everything impossible that we cannot perform; to believe only what our finite minds can grasp; to expect to be able to understand everything. And the last and greatest mistake of all is to live for the time alone when any moment may launch us into eternity.—R.

W. C. T. U.

According to custom, Flower Mission Day was observed by the local W. C. T. U., Saturday, the day set apart by Miss Jennie Cassidy, a lovely christian woman, who was an invalid for thirty years. Impressive memorial service was held at their room, led by the president, after which two committees were appointed, one to visit the sick and another to carry flowers to the Cemetery to decorate the graves of those who have gone beyond. For the first time since the Union has been observing this day there were no prisoners in the county jail. Is not this a convincing argument in favor of Local Option? Sunday afternoon the ladies will visit the county almshouse. Mr. Chumbley will preach at this institution at 3 p. m. All are cordially invited to attend.

Kentucky Chautauque.

CENTRAL RECORD.

LOUIS LANDRAM.

Lancaster, Ky. June 12, 1903.

Uncle Sam is on the right track now that he is weeding out rascals and thieves in the post office department. If the investigation will be kept up, and no pets be allowed to slip thro' the fingers, great good will come of the effort to punish the thieves and jobbers now in the service. Now that Mr. Roosevelt is back at his desk, he should do all in his power to assist the officers working on the case. The presidential election is not so far off, however, and nothing may result for the good of the service.

In the sixty-nine years of his life, a Missouri man has buried twenty-six wives, and just married the twenty-seventh. That fellow has a bright future in the world to come, if he goes to a warmer place, as he will be somewhat acclimated. Any man who has successfully withstood that number of cold feet and mothers-in-law, will care little what old Nick wishes to do to him.

The soldiers now in Breathitt county have captured a small searchlight and killed one cow. This is much better results than were expected of the expedition. The searchlight might be used to try and see what good will come of the sham trial now in progress. Its no use to beef over the cow.

Editor Harry Sommers says, in his Elizabethtown News: "If the average country editor would devote half the space and half the time to good roads that he does to politics he would accomplish twice as much for both his paper and his county."

Mrs. Hetty Green, the richest woman in the world, has secured a renewal or her permit to carry a pistol. We don't know where Hetty carries the gun, but if she totes it Kentucky style, a robber can get her diamonds before she can "draw."

Rev. Dr. Hillis says "we all go to the devil on $50,000 a year. We desire to ask his reverence two questions: First, where is our part of the fifty? Second, does he ever kick for a raise in his salary?"

The Salvation Army proposes to reform the Breathitt county feudists with their gospel. If they will mix a good sprinkle of buckshot with it, some good will possibly be accomplished.

Our exchanges are just now devoting much space to the "sweet" girl graduates. Why add the word "sweet"? Who ever saw a girl at that age who wasn't sweet?

"Do people eat too much?" asks the New York Tribune. If they are country editors, No, emphatically, No.

Goes After Officers.

Stanford Journal—In addition to the charge along the customary lines Judge Saufley informed the grand jury that the members of the county court are liable to indictment for failure to keep the turnpikes in repair and that the magistrates are liable on their official bonds for any damages that may accrue on account of accidents due to defects in the pikes. He also said that the trustees of the various towns in the county are not doing their duty and that he would be glad if the grand jury would stroll through the streets of Stanford while in session and examine their condition, and also, if practicable, to examine the streets of the other towns in the county.

A Good Idea.

The Trustees of the Graded Schools are thinking seriously of adopting a uniform for the girl pupils, and their idea is meeting with the hearty approval of patrons of the school. The many advantages can readily be seen. One of the most important is the adoption of a plain, inexpensive suit, with the mortarboard hat, would put all on an equal, that is, the rich pupils would not then appear clad in finer clothes than those of moderate means. This alone should warrant the uniform. There are other advantages which, we believe, will cause the trustees to take the step.

I have practiced medicine for 36 years and have consulted the leading physicians in this country in regard to a remedy for Dyspepsia, but have never been able to find anything that would effect a cure until I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. I have suffered with stomach trouble for years. Could not eat anything but milk toast for months but since I used Kodol I can eat anything and feel that my health is better than it ever was in my life. I can not say enough for Kodol for it has saved my life and I know that it will cure any case of Dyspepsia it taken as directed.—M. D. Steel, M. D., Big Hill, Ky. Sold by Frisbie. 1 Aug.

Ladies and Children Invited.

All ladies and children who cannot stand the shocking strain of laxative syrups, cathartics, etc., are invited to try the famous Little Early Risers. They are different from all other pills. They do not purge the system. Even a double dose will not gripe, weaken or sicken; many people call them the Easy Pill. W. H. Howell, Houston, Tex., says nothing better can be used for constipation, sick headache, etc. Bob Moore, Lafayette, Ind., says all others gripe and sicken, while De Witt's Little Early Risers do their work well and easy. Sold by F. P. Frisbie, druggist. 1m

We would like to ask, through the columns of your paper, if there is any person who has used Green's August Flower for the cure of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and Liver Troubles that has not been cured—and we also mean their results, such as sour stomach, fermentation of food, habitual costiveness, nervous dyspepsia, headaches, despondent feelings, sleeplessness—in fact any trouble connected with the stomach or liver? This medicine has been sold for many years in all civilized countries, and we wish to correspond with you and send you one of our books free of cost. If you never tried August Flower, try a 25 cent bottle first. We have never known of its failing. If so, something more serious is the matter with you. The 25 cent size has just been introduced this year. Regular size 75 cents. At Stormes' Drug Store. G. G. Green, Woodbury, N. J. Aug. 29

Filberts came from Greece.

Caution!

This is not a gentle word—but when you think how liable you are not to purchase the only remedy universally known and a remedy that has had the largest sale of any medicine in the world since 1868 for the cure and treatment of Consumption and Throat and Lung troubles without losing its great popularity all these years, you will be thankful we called your attention to Boschee's German Syrup. There are so many ordinary cough remedies made by druggists and others that are cheap and good for light colds perhaps, but severe Coughs, Bronchitis, Croup—and especially for Consumption where there is difficult expectoration and coughing during the nights and mornings, there is nothing like German Syrup. The 25 cent size has just been introduced this year. Regular size 75 cents. At Stormes' Drug Store. Aug. 29

Civic League Meeting. A Citizen's Meeting under call of the Garrard Law and Order League, has been appointed to meet at the County Court room to night, Thursday 11th, at 7:45 p. m. This meeting is one in the regular order, provided in the By-Laws of the League. It will give consideration, however, to matters of recent local interest, in which every good citizen should be vitally interested. Ladies are cordially invited.

Annual Conference of Women's Missionary Societies, District. The Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist church, representing the counties of Garrard, Lincoln, Boyle, Mercer, Washington, Jessamine and Madison, is in session at the Memorial Methodist church in Lancaster, as our paper goes to press. A live occasion it is in every sense of the word; the papers, addresses and discussions indicating most thoughtful preparation. Attendance from all the counties is observed, a most happy feature is the invitation to, and participation in the proceedings by the Societies of the sister churches in Lancaster. The Record hopes to give further items of the Conference in next issue.

The Universal Mistake. Lexington Democrat:—If one could but briefly review the sermon preached at the several Lexington churches yesterday, or elsewhere for that matter, it would be observed that altho' the churches are known by different names and styles of different denominations, there is a remarkable similarity between them all, a tendency upon the part of God's ministers to get together and pull in the same direction, for the uplifting of mankind, instead of opposing each other when engaged in precisely the same kind of labor.

And why should men quarrel about their faiths, when all religions are, and must of a necessity be, fundamentally one and the same, the worship of a superior and creative power? All the Bibles and sacred books, the Vedas, the Koran and Talmud, all the prayers and prophecies are the half-articulate voice of mankind crying for light; seeking to know the mysteries of his own life.

Throughout the great wilderness men have heard the voice of Siddartha, the whisperings of the Dodona Oaks; they have climbed with Moses on Sinai's 3-8aming crest, and listened to the prayer of Christ in the garden of Gethsemane; yet they all aim to worship the same great:

"Father of all, in every age, in every clime, adored, By saint, by savage and by sage, Jehovah, Jove or Lord."

Despite this, however, Lucifer has been busy building new idols while men have been shattering ethnic images. While men have been dragging the Phalaris Bull from its pedestal the Golden Calf of Ancient Israel has reached maturity and maternity and its progeny is now worshipped in a thousand pantheons. Everywhere the false and the true, the good and the evil, the lambent light of heaven and sulphuric shadows of hell meet and blend. No where, yet every where, floats the white veil and flaming ensigns of the modern Mokana, while dudes stand wrangling about the proper cut of a collar, doubting with which hand we should tip the hat, and wondering if Joseph's coat were a sack, cutaway or swallow-tail. Men waste their energy on childish trifles and every foolish breath, every heart-beat, is bearing us across Time's narrow sands into the broad bosom of that sea which hath no shore.

Examination. Examination for white teachers will be held Friday and Saturday, June 19-20.

Examination for colored teachers will be held Friday and Saturday, June 26-27.

Examination for students who desire to try for the scholarship at State College, Lexington, Ky., will be held June 25th, 1903. This examination is competitive, and is open to all applicants between 14 and 20 years of age. All three examinations will be held at County Sup't's. office.

The Garrard County Institute for White Teachers will be held at the Court House, July 13-17, 1903. All Teachers are required to attend, unless excused from attending by the County Superintendent, otherwise, their certificates will be revoked. tf Mrs. L. L. Walker, Co. Sup't.

Abolish the Farm Gate. There is talk of erecting a handsome entrance and gate to the Graded School grounds. Most anything would be an improvement over the farm gate now in service. That property is too handsome to stand behind a horse-high, pig-tight farm gate.

Business change. Mr R G Ward has sold his coal business to Messrs Thos. Austin and Alex Beazley. These gentlemen will continue the business at the old stand, and, as both are hustlers, will keep nothing but the best coal, and plenty of it.

Notice to Lot Owners. The Trustees has had barrels placed at convenient points in the Cemetery in which to throw withered flowers, waste paper, and other trash. It is

Senator McCrery's Answer. Some weeks ago, the New York World wrote to fifty prominent men, leaders in every department throughout the country, asking them their views on the question "What is the greatest achievement of the human mind in the last twenty years?" Among the number thus queried was Senator James B. McCrery, of Richmond, whose answer was, "The application of electricity to illumination, transportation and quick communication." Mr. McCrery said in part, "that the application of electricity was revolutionizing the illumination of our towns and cities, and the lighting of our public buildings and residences. That the application of electricity to transportation was in many places superseding the use of steam, as it is said that electric trains can be operated at one-sixth of the cost of steam trains, and scientific men claim that it will not be long until transportation by electricity will cost only one-tenth as much as transportation by steam. That the application of electricity to quick communication is attracting much attention all over the world. The systems of wireless telegraphy presented by DeForest, Fessenden and Marconi have attracted much attention among all nations. The United States Government appointed Commissioners a few months ago to make an investigation and report on these systems, and their findings were in favor of the DeForest system. The officers of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, commonly called the St. Louis World's Fair, have made arrangements to use the DeForest system during the time the fair is being held, and one of the greatest wonders of any age will be, that the officers and visitors of the fair propose to communicate with every building and department without the use of wire."

One of the correspondents of the World wrote to the Senator, commending his answer and saying he agreed with him.
